WELCOME TO MIAMI WEB FEST!

The Miami Web Fest is a four day festival showcasing the hottest new web series content from around the world. Taking place from September 29 – October 2, the city of Miami is on full display throughout this gala, with the distinct South Beach and Miami cultures creating a work/play atmosphere that is unlike any other web film festival in the world.

The city of Miami now boasts the world's most prestigious event for digital filmmakers, as the 3rd Annual Miami Web Fest christens the city of Miami as the new hub for aspiring TV and film creators in the 21st century. Executives and former executives from Netflix, HBO, AMC and more will serve as judges at the Miami Web Fest, offering feedback and advice to the hundreds of digital filmmakers from around the world who were selected by the festival. Created in 2014 by award-winning filmmaker and US Army veteran Bryan Thompson, the Miami Web Fest offers aspiring digital filmmakers the chance to be discovered by an unprecedented panel of judges and industry executives. It also allows the general public the rare opportunity to discover the next big hit show or movie before it is redeveloped by major networks.

Several past winners and participants of the Miami Web Fest have gone on to land major mainstream success beyond the festival. GRINGOLANDIA, which won 'Best Spanish Language Series' at the 2014 Miami Web Fest, went on to sign a deal with Netflix in 2015. WHATEVER LINDA, winner of the 'Best in Festival' award at the 2014 Miami Web Fest, is currently being adapted for TV by the Co-Creator of the show 'Orphan Black'. There is always the possibility that one or more of the entrants could eventually go on to mainstream success. Miami Web Fest is one more reason why Miami is called the "Magic City"!
